

The Ministry of Oil announces the establishment of a new pipeline for oil exports from Baiji to Vishkhabur

A spokesman for the Ministry of Oil for the Ministry of construction of a new pipeline for oil exports extends from the Baiji district of Salahaddin province to the border area of Fishkhabur.

“Oil Minister Jabbar Ali al-Allaibi has instructed the relevant companies and departments in the ministry to prepare the documents for the new oil pipeline, which is implemented according to the investment formula (BOT) of the pipe section, which extends from Baiji to Vishkhabur, which transfers crude from the Kirkuk fields to the port Ceyhan Turkish companies will be invited for this purpose in the near future.

Jihad added that the section of the old strategic pipeline for the said distance has been greatly affected by the repeated targeting of the pipeline and the abuses suffered by the sabotage operations of the ISIS gangs, which impedes the rehabilitation and re-service again, so the new pipeline will be a substitute for the previous pipe.
